- Left Pane: A project tree showing the hierarchy of files: QUIZSHOW.ACC, TEST QUIZSHOW.WTB, and various modules like QUESTIONTIMER.VHD, QUIZCONTROLLER.VSM, QUIZSHOW.VHD, and their corresponding testbenches.
- Top-Right Pane: A waveform viewer showing signals over time. The signals include 'clock' (a periodic square wave), 'reset' (a single pulse), and 'contestantA' (a pulse). The time scale ranges from 0ns to 800ns.
- Bottom-Left Pane: A VHDL code editor showing the source code for the QUIZSHOW entity. The code includes library declarations for IEEE standards and the entity's port list.
- Bottom-Right Pane: A state machine diagram for QUIZCONTROLLER.VSM. It features three states: S1 (green circle), S2 (blue circle), and S3 (blue circle). Transitions are labeled with conditions: S1 to S2 is triggered by '(contestantA = '1' or contestantB = '1' or cont...', S2 to S3 is triggered by 'reset_timer <= '0'', and S3 to S1 is triggered by 'time_up = '1''.
